

1. Write a sentence in your books with the Word of the Day. Can you try to include a conjunction in the sentence? When have YOU been compassionate in your life? Maybe you can also link it to this week's English work. Look up compassion in the thesaurus if you have one.
2. Work out these addition problems. Use column addition if you can. Put HTO at the top of your columns.
3. a) $447 + 522 =$
b) $873 + 118 =$
c) $555 + 316 =$
d) $999 + 111 =$

DID YOU KNOW?*January 18th is...

Thesaurus Day

Have you got a Thesaurus at home? If you have, keep it with you for English lessons.

Word of the Day!compassionate*com-pas-sion-ate

Someone or something showing the feeling of pity, sympathy.

She showed compassion by helping Jen up.

Can you use this in your English work? Or in a conversation today?

Remember to still complete today

15 minutes of
TTROCKSTAR.

Reading for 10 minutes.

DID YOU KNOW?

January 19th is...

Popcorn Day

Word of the Day!

fallible
fal-li-ble

Someone or something is not perfect, likely to make mistakes

Ollie was fallible, but continued to train and work hard.

Can you use this in your English work? Or in a conversation today?

Remember to still complete today

15 minutes of TTROCKSTAR.

Reading for 10 minutes.

- Make a list of adverbs. Remember, an adverb is something that describes a verb. (tells you how, when, how often, or where, something is done.)

- Practise this weeks spelling shed words = contractions.

could not = couldn't would not = wouldn't does not = doesn't can not = can't will not = won't was not = wasn't

I will = I'll we will = we'll they are = they're we are = we're

How many more can you think of?

Practise other contractions on spelling shed.

DID YOU KNOW?

January 20th is...

Penguin Awareness Day

Word of the Day!

optimistic
op-ti-mis-tic

someone who is hopeful
about the future or success in something.

Harriet was optimistic
about 2021.

Can you use this in your English work? Or in a conversation today?

Remember to still complete today

15 minutes of
TTROCKSTAR.

Reading for 10 minutes.

- Write down as many facts about penguins as you know. Then you could look up new facts on the internet, or from any books that you have at home.
- Focus on TT Rockstars today and see if you can beat your own personal top score. Which times tables are you confident in? Which still need work?

DID YOU KNOW?January 21st is...

Squirrel Day

Word of the Day!Lousy
lous-y

Describing something as very bad quality or that you don't like it.

2020 had been a lousy year, but 2021 will be better.

Can you use this in your English work? Or in a conversation today?

Remember to still complete today

15 minutes of TTROCKSTAR.

Reading for 10 minutes.

- Write a sentence in your books with the Word of the Day. Can you try to include a conjunction in the sentence?
- Practice recalling your times tables, for your bronze, silver and gold badges. Put a copy of your times tables somewhere where you can see them a lot. Maybe on the fridge for when you are eating breakfast, or on the desk where you do your school work, or up in your bedroom. The more you see them, the more you will look and learn, and the better you will get at your times tables!

DID YOU KNOW?

January 22nd is...

Celebration Day

Word of the Day!

infinite
in-fi-nite

You are saying that it is extremely great in amount or degree.

His love for playing hockey was infinite.

Can you use this in your English work? Or in a conversation today?

Remember to still complete today

15 minutes of
TTROCKSTAR.

Reading for 10 minutes.

- What are you going to celebrate today? What ways can you celebrate in lockdown? Write a sentence in your books with the Word of the Day. Can you try to include a conjunction in the sentence?
- On the school blog, please write a post telling us what you have been up to, and how has it been going this week. You can include a photo of your work, if you would like. (Please no photos of yourself, just your amazing work.)