Dear Parents and Carers

Home learning has really taken off this week and I have been so pleased to see so many children Zooming in to their lessons and engaging with their teachers. I know that the children in school are also enjoying seeing their classmates from home. Thank you all for your patience with the inevitable teething problems, hopefully most of these have now been resolved. Your feedback is always useful and the positive comments have really boosted the staff's moral.

Once again, I will be holding a live whole school assembly at 9.05am on Monday morning (18th January) and I hope that you will all be able to join me. The YouTube link is:

If you are entitled to means tested free school meals, in line with the new Government guidance, we will be sending you a food voucher each week rather than a food parcel. These will be coming from a company called Wonde. This will commence from the week beginning 18th January.

A separate letter will be sent to you regarding the reading book deliveries.

I hope you all have a restful weekend.

Please continue to stay safe and well.

Yours sincerely

Mrs Tracy Bryden

Executive Headteacher
