Friday 26th January 2024 – Pre-school

Welcome!

We have had a brilliant week at Pre-school. We have continued to explore the topic of construction and the weather. We have been learning all about penguins and playing in the ice. We had a surprise visit from the police! They spoke with some of the children about staying safe and they had the opportunity to explore their police van.

Welcome to our new starters, the children are settling well and are learning our routines.

Please can parents and carers stand back from the door at the collection point. This will enable the children to have space to be handed over to their guardian.

Tapestry

We are finalising Tapestry, thank you for your patience.

Coming Up

Those children that are toilet training are doing so well, we are really proud of them. If you would like to discuss toilet training, then please do mention this to a member of the team and your Key Person will follow up with you.

We have also had children developing their writing, phonics and number recognition in a fun and play based way. We will be developing our phonics and maths provision for children within the Pre-school.

You will receive a message from your Key Person introducing themselves. They will be sending regular updates alongside the rest of the team. Please do return your All About Me paperwork so your Key Person can read it.

The children will be participating in the RSPB Big Garden Bird Watch. This will be reflected within our new Outdoor Learning Provision. Please can all children have named outdoor wear.

Reminders

- If you need to call/email the Pre-school or inform us of an illness please do so through the Office. They will then forward this message to the appropriate person in Pre-school.
- The Pre-School gate opens at 9:00am or 12:00pm, please try and be on time.
